SUSTAINED

May Be, By Judge Cochran, Is the Outlook For State Tax Suits

Governor McCreary and the members of the Board of Valuation and Assessment were constant in attendance on the hearings of the state tax suits at Frankfort before Judge Cochran, and expressed the belief that the assessments would stand. They said they were pleased with the handling of the case.

Aside from the modification of the restraining order to permit the counties to share in the partial payment of taxes the outcome of the hearing is still in the dark. The hearing was on the motion of the railroad for an interlocutory injunction, to restrain the State from taking any action until the case is heard on its merits, and counsel on both sides now, after filing additional affidavits and briefing their cases, will proceed with the work of taking proof to be presented at the final hearing of the case, should Judge Cochran grant the interlocutory injunction.

WANTS THE FIGURES.

One of the things the court makes open is the presentation to him of the actual calculations by which the State Board of Valuation and Assessment arrived at the total value of the railroad's franchise and apportioned to Kentucky its share of the whole. This information was denied the railroad by the Board at and after the time of making the assessments, on the ground that it would be of no value to the roads since the action of the Board was final, except to aid them in any lawsuit they might institute. Judge Cochran, however, insisted that this information now should be furnished, and the Attorney General said it would be furnished in an affidavit to be filed in the case, of which a copy would be given the counsel for the railroad.

FURS

A high standard has been set for our Furs this year. Our lowest priced Muff and Neckpiece stands for a certain quality. A number of new Muffs and Scarfs have just come in that confirm that statement. Our prices are equally right is proved by the fact that in spite of unseasonable weather Mr. Hunt has had to see us three shipments of Furs from New York. Women whose investment in furs must be limited will be delighted with our moderate prices and with the furs they mark, as the attractive Muffs and Scarfs look far more expensive. Scarfs $2 1/2 to $15. Muffs $1 1/4 to $25. Sets $10 to $40. A Big Assortment of Children's Fur Sets $1.25 to $6. Misses Sets $5 to $15.

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

William H. Taft will return in a short time to Cincinnati and become a neighbor of us Kentuckians. The only regret on this side of the Ohio will be that he will "settle down"—for presumably he is through with politics for good and all—upon the other side of the river. Kentucky would be glad to have him as one of its distinguished citizens.

President Taft, although one of the worst defeated Presidents in history, is not an unpopular man. As a Republican he could not have proved loyal to his party and veered widely from the course he pursued. The public had about forgotten the Ballinger-Pinchot affair when the recent campaign began, and it was not mentioned during the campaign, at least by any speaker whose voice carried beyond his immediate audience. It was upon the issue of tariff revision that the President was doomed to defeat, and would have met defeat even if the fight had not been a three-cornered one, the President fighting at a disadvantage with the knife of a former friend under the fifth rib.

President Taft's swan song is that of a sane, sensible, temperate man whose philosophy of life is too optimistic to be reversed by reverses at the polls, and whose sincerity of purpose was never questioned even when the position he occupied as a party leader forced him into unpopular attitudes.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WILSON DREAMING IN HIS TENT.

'Neath the shades of the palm trees of Bermuda, with the soft, caressing breezes playing his head and flipping the pages of the resting on his knee, what dreams may to Woodrow Wilson! Far from the ring crowd, far from the office seekers and trouble-makers, what visions of power or peace may come to him!

To be radical or conservative; that is the question that may present itself to the languid President-elect as the breezes fan his brow. Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of William Jennings Bryan, or take arms against a sea of troubles, and by opposing, end them. To run again at the end of four years; to run; perchance to fall. Ay, 'tis the rub!

all there come to the reclining hero the e of Hamlet in a sea of doubt, or rather f Alexander seeking new world's to con- Shall he take to the field or stick to the cloister? Shall he in the next four years, be leader or led?

Dolce far niente? Ah, yes, 'tis sweet to do nothing when one has nothing to do. But when one, like the victor of the recent battle, has a world of indecision to explore, the doing of nothing is turned into the task of a Titan. Pity the struggling conqueror in his lonely retreat! Endless counsel has been offered to him, but in the end he must turn to the wild waves to hear what they are saying. It is said he has invited William Jennings Bryan to meet him in the still-vexed Bermoothes. Perhaps that is the best way out of it. Let them meet on the sands at dawn and let them there, with none but the waves as witness, match their souls and wits, and determine which is the master, which man. One or the other is to run the White House for the next four years. What do the wild waves say?—Washington Post.

Tact is a combination of good temper, ready wit, quickness of perception and ability to take in the exigency of the occasion instantly. It is never offensive, but is a balm allaying suspicion and soothing. It is appreciated. It is plausible without being dishonest, apparently consults the welfare of the second party and does not manifest any selfishness. It is never antagonistic, never strokes the hair the wrong way, and never irritates. Tact, like a fine manner, eases the way, takes the jar out of the jolts, oils the bearings, opens doors, barred to others, sits in the drawing room when others must wait in the reception hall, gets into private offices when others are turned down. It admits you into exclusive circles, where wealth abounds, even though poor. It secures the position when merit is turned away. Tact is a great manager. It easily controls people, even when combined with small ability, when genius cannot get along.—Leslie's Weekly.

SELECT P. M.'S BY PRIMARIES

Democratic Senators and Representatives propose to select Postmasters at party primaries. Representative Ben Humphreys of Mississippi and Jack Seal of Texas favor the method and have already announced that in making recommendations for the appointments of Postmasters in their districts they will ask the people in every community concerned to indicate their choice in a primary. It is their purpose to limit such primaries to regularly enrolled Democratic voters.

Christian Schultz Pearce, Native of Maysville, May Be U. S. Treasurer

Is One of the World's Greatest Financiers

Washington Dispatch to Saturday's Courier-Journal.

Christian S. Pearce, formerly of Maysville, and known all over Kentucky as "Celi," was notified by Secretary MacVeagh today that he will shortly be appointed Assistant Treasurer of the United States, to succeed C. C. Bantz, whose resignation was requested by Mr. MacVeagh. No tender of the office was made to Mr. Pearce, but he was not willing to accept until he learned that his advance would in no way force out another man. The Secretary made it clear that Mr. Bantz was not wanted any longer in the Treasurer's office and when Mr. Pearce resigned Mr. Pearce agreed to accept. His appointment will be made soon by the President and is subject to confirmation by the Senate. Should the body refuse to confirm Mr. Pearce, which is unlikely, he will continue in office until March, 1913, when it will be up to President Wilson to name an Assistant Treasurer. Should the Senate confirm his appointment he will serve until President Wilson chooses to name a successor.

The indications today were that not only will Mr. Pearce, who is a Democrat, hold his new office under the new administration, but that a boom will be started among Kentuckians to raise him to the office of Treasurer under President Wilson. The Treasurer is one of the first officials to be appointed by a new President.

Mr. Pearce is now chief of the Postal Savings Division of the Treasury at $2,500 a year. His new place pays $3,000. He is a brother of Charles D. Pearce of Louisville, and was appointed to the Treasury Department eighteen years ago by Secretary John G. Carlisle.

He was modest over his advancement when seen today, but highly pleased to think that a Democrat could fare so well under a Republican administration. "A blind hog is bound to find an acorn occasionally," he said, "you can't expect a squirrel on the ground."

ENDORSED AT HOME

DOGS AS THIS SHOULD CONVINCE ANY MAYSVILLE CITIZEN

Public endorsement of a local citizen is proof that can be produced. None more stronger can be had. When I come forward and testify to his following, addresses his friends and neighbors, may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or could not do so. Telling one's experience it is for the public good is an act of duty that should be appreciated. The following statement, given by a resident of Maysville, is one more of the many cases of Home Remedies which are being published about Maysville.

Mr. E. H. Hines, Maysville, Ky., writes: "I gave in 1908, when I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills still I do. I know that this remedy is just as good as it has been used by one of my friends with satisfactory results. This was obtained at Wood & Son's Drug Store by all dealers. Price 50 cents, per box. HOME MISSIONS

United Service a Splendid Meeting and Great Progress is Shown

Young People Spend More For Gum and Picture Shows Than For Church Work

The Women's Mission Societies of the various Churches met for an all-day union service at the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday, November 19th.

Miss Burrows conducted the devotional service at the morning session. The services opened with a hymn, Mrs. J. F. Barbour, accompanist.

Then followed scripture lesson from Luke, and prayer.

Miss Louise Best presided over the meeting in general. After Miss Best stated object of the meeting Miss Raisa gave an account of the work of the First Presbyterian Church for home missions and an account of Pikeville Collegiate Institute.

Miss Noyes spoke of the home mission work of the Southern Presbyterian Church and the work among the Negroes.

Miss Best then introduced Mrs. Yancey of Lexington, who made a few remarks as to the object of the meeting.

No report from the Baptist Church, Miss Curtis being unable to be present.

Mrs. Young of the Christian Church then spoke of the work being done by the C. W. R. V. Miss Gill gave an account of the work of the Episcopal Church.

Miss Best gave the work being done by the women of the M. E. Church, South.

After a song by Miss Laubley, Mrs. Ficklin announced Miss Hard of the City Missions unable to be present and asked Miss Burrows to present the work of the City Mission. She spoke of their Industrial School and the wonderful work of Mrs. Brock and Miss Hurd.

The morning session was closed by the Lord's Prayer being repeated by all.

Mrs. Sharp conducted the devotional of the afternoon session, opening with the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

While she led in an earnest prayer for God's help and blessing on her efforts, Miss Archdeacon played softly the hymn, "Savior, Thy Dying Love," after which Mrs. Sharp read portions of Scripture from Acts, 24 chapter.

Miss Laubley sang the above mentioned hymn, each verse being interspersed with short prayers from Mrs. Moody, Miss Lee and a silent prayer, closing with the Lord's prayer.

Miss King then sang a beautiful selection. Miss Best presented the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Sarah K. Yancey of Lexington, who spoke on "America—Her Problems, Needs and Opportunities."

She dwelt more especially on the Negro of the South, our mountain people and our immigrants, and stated that in this, our beloved America, there are 74 temples erected for idol worship, and that in our cities many are becoming followers of Babbalanja.

She deplored the fact that so much more is spent yearly by our young people for chewing gum or moving picture shows alone than for home missions.

She said that no wonder the foreigner coming to our country forms an association for evil rather than good, when our Churches and our religion does not appeal to him as do the saloons, etc.

Here was indeed an instructive and interesting talk, and so many more things might be said about it. May each society for mission work and study profit greatly by it.

She urged the societies of the different Churches not to grow faint, but to remember that to help make the mightier forces working for this great cause.

One verse of "America" was sung and we were dismissed with the Lord's Prayer in concert.

Mrs. R. P. MOODY.

There are quite a number of all-aged aspirants for the postmastership at this place, although the term of the present incumbent does not expire for nearly a year and a half. And the aspirants for appointment will do well to remember that Miss Mary Bayless, a former Maysville girl, who is private secretary to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, is a sister of the wife of Martin Luther Harrison, of Chicago, a son of Postmaster Harrison. So, you see, there are wheels within wheels and you can't sometimes most always tell what will happen.

What's Going to Happen?

PARIS, NOVEMBER 23.—The following events are predicted in the 1913 almanac of Madame De Thebes, famous French prophetess:

The Pope will die.
Poland will be freed.
The Prince of Wales will reign.
The French troops will rush to the frontier.
Perils will be the scene of a terrible theater fire.

Bulgaria will play a stupendous role in Europe.

The German Emperor may come to Paris, but not as a King.

Italy will witness a political upheaval and, perhaps a new King.

The marriage of the Queen of Luxembourg, extending the world, and damaging France's interests politically.

It is interesting to note that Madame De Thebes last year predicted the Balkan War.

All Evidence of Impure Blood and a Run-Down Condition

When the blood becomes thin, poor, de-vitalized nature cries out through such external and often painful evidences for help, and the safest, surest and most helpful remedy we know is Vinol.

This is because it is a combination of the two most famous tonics—the medicinal elements of cod liver oil (without the oil) and tonic iron for the blood. Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, purifies and enriches the blood, creates strength.

Mary Lang of Altoona, Pa., says: "Ever since childhood I have been delicate and my blood poor, thin, and devitalized. Nothing seemed to help me until I took Vinol and it has built me up and made me strong. We say positively there is nothing like Vinol to purify and enrich the blood and build up weak, run-down people. If it should fail in your case we will return your money. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

ONE VOTER CAUGHT

Who Had Been Disfranchised in Adams County Probe

Last week an order was sent from Judge Blair's court, in the Adams Pike District, to have Thomas Curtis brought into court, to have imposed a sentence for violation of the disfranchisement law given him when the election probe was on in Adams county.

Curtis was one of a herd who was found guilty of selling his vote, and given a fine of $50 and a suspended sentence of six months in the workhouse.

At the last election he slipped into the Camp Creek neighborhood in Seelye county and put one in the ballot box to vote on the court's order. He was called into court and given the jail sentence and fine, which has sent him to the Cincinnati workhouse for something like 280 days.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corin writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help. I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

DURING PAST YEAR

One Hundred and Fifty Millions Have Been Spent Upon Highways of Country

Ancient Highways Have Withstood the Use of Centuries of Traffic

Those who opposed wagon road improvement and who have been responsible for nothing being done in any of the many parts of the country have no realization either as to what good roads mean in the way of an annual saving to the people of the United States, or to the durability of good roads.

The total mileage of all the roads in the United States is 2,151,570 miles. Not quite 200,000 or 9 1-10 per cent are now improved according to modern methods, leaving more than 90 per cent of mud and dirt highways.

Beyond the saving in the way of wagon transportation the money spent already reaches over this comparatively small improved portion close to $100,000,000. From this it can be seen that if all roads were put in good condition the annual saving would be about one thousand million dollars. The initial cost of improved highways is the only real expense. The upkeep amounts to practically nothing. Take for instance a modern brick road. There is no telling how long it will last, but there are many roads of this character which have been down for twenty years and have grown better as time goes on. Striking examples can be seen of this all over the country and brick manufactured today is of more durability than that which was made two decades back. The same is also true of stone. After a road has been used for a considerable period, if the material chips a little, and it will never chip sufficiently to become rough, it furnished a firmer footing for horses in snowy and rainy weather and thus the ability to haul heavier loads every time is increased with no added wear on the vehicle.

Claim is made that the present agitation in favor of good roads was begun by the owners of automobiles. This becomes amusing when the real facts are known. The Apian Way was built three hundred years before the commencement of the Christian era. Simplicius was built by Napoleon Bonaparte and so before either of these roads were constructed there was an agitation for better highways.

Moses led the children of Israel away from Egypt on a paved road and it was paved as substantially as are any of the roads today in the United States. Automobile owners were several thousand years late in starting the agitation in taking people out of the mud.

The present year illustrates the interest which is being taken by the general public in this matter. Something like $15,000,000 have been spent by different states for wagon road improvement. New York alone made an appropriation of $50,000,000 and California was second in the amount given. Ohio unfortunately defeated a proposition to issue $50,000,000 in bonds as proposed in the Constitutional Amendments, but the agitation is going on there and the coming legislation will be asked to make a direct levy for carrying on the work. Requests will undoubtedly be granted.

Send all matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock a. m.
